

I very much value the importance of smaller, independent ISPs that provide great service. I consider BellSouth's request to stop regulating broadband service a direct threat to free enterprise, and my choice of options. The trend to return to monstrous conglomeration must be checked. Any government that proclaims "free enterprise" must see the hypocrisy here. Please reject this request. Thank you.